This Week's Highlight:
All About the Data!

As Behavior Analysts, we appreciate it when people analyze data and make decisions!

Check out this presentation put together by the Virginia Department of Health which goes more into depth on the data they are providing daily via this Web site:
<https://www.vdh.virginia.gov/coronavirus/>.

These data affected the decisions that the Governor announced last Monday:

- Businesses are ordered to stay closed through May 14 at least (they were scheduled to open May 8)

- Phase I is planned to start May 15, unless there is a negative trend on COVID-19 cases. Phase I allows businesses to reopen with social distancing guidelines.
- Consideration of removing the stay-at-home order on May 15 (originally June 10) with wearing of masks recommended for everyone
- Phase II is planned to begin 3 to 4 weeks after Phase I and would allow gatherings of 50 people
- There would be a final Phase III prior to lifting all restrictions
